

David M. Drucker, Senior Correspondent, Washington Examiner; Political Analyst, CNN

David M. Drucker is a senior correspondent for the Washington Examiner, where he focuses on Congress, campaigns and national political trends, providing breaking news reporting, analysis and insight. Prior to joining the Examiner, he was a political reporter for Roll Call. He also covered California politics in the Sacramento bureau of the Los Angeles Daily News. Drucker graduated from UCLA with a BA in history. He spent eight years helping manage a California, family-run manufacturing business, giving him a unique perspective on how what happens inside the Beltway affects the rest of the country. Drucker is a CNN political analyst and lives in Washington with his wife and two children.

Michael Creamer, Principal, Tax & Planning Services, Director of Wealth Advisory Services, Glass Jacobson Financial Group

Michael came to Glass Jacobson in November of 2011. He has been a Certified Public Accountant since 1992, specializing in accounting and tax compliance, and brings extensive experience working with start-up companies, not for profit organizations, and professional services practices. He became a Certified Financial Planner® in 1997, working closely with clients in investment management, income tax planning and retirement planning. Michael is a Certified Divorce Financial Analyst (CDFA™) and an Accredited Domestic Partnership Advisor (ADPA).

In his previous career experience at OneSource Financial Services Group in Montgomery Village, MD, Mr. Creamer worked with individuals and small business owners on accounting and tax matters as well as financial planning. He has extensive experience working with individual stocks and bonds, mutual funds, variable and fixed annuities, life, long-term care and disability insurance and tax planning. He holds series 7 and 63 securities licenses.

He received a B.S. in Accounting from St. Joseph's University and earned the Education Certification from the College for Financial Planning. Mr. Creamer is an Investment Advisor Representative, a licensed life and health insurance agent and a member of the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA), the Maryland Association of CPAs (MACPA) and the Financial Planning Association.

Mr. Creamer practices in Glass Jacobson's Rockville office, where he lives with his wife and four children. He is active in his children's school, his church and local community, including as a member of the National Youth Sports Coaches Association.